

Test Automation

“Assessment, feasibility, evaluation, framework and implementation services to assure you have the proper tools and optimal models for test automation.”

No argument, Test Automation absolutely offers the promise of cost savings for any organization testing numerous releases of an application throughout the year. So then why are so many companies disappointed with the reality of their results? Test Automation will save time and provide a significant return on investment if the tools are correctly optimized.

Comprehensive Experience

Implementing Test Automation correctly requires considerable experience in a broad range of situations and environments. Questcon has successfully delivered Test Automation solutions, using a broad range of tools and in all kinds of environments, for over 15 years. Our experienced consultants are acknowledged as highly effective and recognized as thought leaders in their field.

Speed to Results

Questcon delivers outside expertise gained from numerous engagements to help companies establish superior test automation processes that would normally be attained through years of trial and error. Bottom-line, you achieve cost savings and efficiencies much more rapidly than going it alone.

The Right Approach

Questcon has a remarkable ability to target the most suitable Test Automation frameworks, based on a clients' unique set of needs and capability. Our quantitative methodology for tool selection assures you make the right decision and one that complements your processes.

Complete Range of Services

Start to finish, no matter what your test automation needs, Questcon can help with a broad range of services. From evaluation to design, development and implementation, Questcon has the experience and proven results you need to get your Test Automation performing like it should.

Test Automation Assessment

Determine the current state of your testing process, environments involved and data approach. Get a recommendation for an automation framework best suited for the application.

Test Automation Feasibility Evaluation

Select and prioritize which manual processes are best candidates for automation and know how to minimize the effort it will take to maintain them.

Test Automation Tool Evaluation

Questcon takes the guesswork and bias out of selecting the appropriate test tool by matching the unique requirements of your application with the right testing tool and making a solid recommendation.

Test Automation Framework Design & Development

Let our experts design and develop the best automation framework and test strategy for your specific needs.

Test Automation Implementation

We work with your test team to implement the automation framework, including setting up the environment, data approach and framework (data-driven, module, key-word and database approaches).

Test Automation Metrics and Tools

Most Test Automation tools have components that are designed to track your testing metrics. Questcon will make sure you have the tool configured properly. Be sure you are tracking the things that matter most and offer the greatest return.